The role of the Whistleblower Protection Officer (WPO) is to:

- Act in accordance with this Standard and to safeguard the interests of the Individual raising the issue;
- Ensure that any Individual who is the subject to an allegation has the opportunity to respond;
- Maintain a direct line of reporting to the Executive Chairman;
- Upon completion of the investigation, report the findings to the Executive Chairman who will determine the appropriate response in consultation with the WPO; and

The WPO will not conduct any investigation which relates to allegations made regarding themselves, their department or any circumstances in which their independence may be questioned, or it would be unreasonable to do so. The role of the WPO is nominated by the Executive Chairman, endorsed by the Board and is currently the Vice President - People and Culture.

Investigation Process

Upon receiving a complaint covered under this Standard, the WPO will ensure the matter is appropriately addressed and that any investigation will be conducted confidentially and without bias.
